

Weekly Mini Project 01 - Team Division

These teams are specific to Weekly Mini Project 01. Team composition may change for future weekly mini projects.

Teamwork Rules

1. Each team has one assigned leader. 2. The leader decides the internal work split, either directly or after discussion with the team. 3. Frontend/backend ownership is not pre-assigned by the instructor. 4. Work should be distributed fairly and every member should make meaningful contributions. 5. Every member should understand the project at a high level and participate in the English presentation.

Role Allocation

At the beginning of the project, each leader should coordinate a short discussion with the team and decide how responsibilities will be divided. The team may split work across frontend, backend, integration, testing, Git coordination, and presentation tasks in the way that best fits the project and the members' strengths.
